The Challenge

Offering risk management solutions that safeguard and empower organisations to make well-informed decisions is no easy feat to achieve and more so with the healthcare sector especially when it's about lowering medical costs and connecting patients with the right providers. You need real data that matters. The client was eagerly looking to promote a crucial healthcare offering across the South USA region. Previous campaign attempts were nothing significant. The client was in the look-out for custom-list solutions to target Physicians for their upcoming campaign.

Solutions

Span Global Services offered targeted Physician data that was elementary for the kind of niche offering that the client was set to launch. Their Data was matched with our master repository of over 1 million contact records exclusively from the healthcare sector. Results achieved were outstanding. The deliverability ratio was close to a whopping 84%.

Results

The client is elated with the success percentage and the lead to deal conversion ratio through the rendered services. Along with the Physician Database the client is now keen on extending the license of our Healthcare Data repository for 3 years to drive their global campaigns for 2018.
